

Photo we took in 1942 From almost the same vantage point as the attached 1906 image - Far left you can see a small portion of the new highway bridge. The Mill was to the left of the new highway bridge. The you see to the left of the former Museum home was and still today is called "Innerbridge Street"

The arrow indicates the Mill Manager's home.
This would be when the Robert Nivison + Margaret Boz Nivison Lived while Robert was Mill Manager.
He was still the manager when he unexpectedly died in 1902. The Buildings to the upper left were part of the Mill. The Cantl Pedestrian Bridge was known as the Inwen Bridge. Irpuliwa the road in the direction from where photo was taken would take you to Leuchars
ABOUT 1 1/2 miles distant.
